West Hartford Chief To Speak At Dedication Of Fire Station

Fire Chief John T. O'Laughlin of West Hartford will be the principal speaker at the formal dedication of the new fire station on North Main Street on September 8. O'Laughlin was appointed fire chief in 1959, succeeding Edward Thurlow, who served for 25 years. The new station is 2,000 square feet, with four bays and a large community room. The station was built on the site of the old one, which was torn down.

Boo Co. Gets On Franchise For Run Here

The Boo Co., which has been trying to obtain a franchise for a beer bottling plant in West Hartford, has been granted a franchise by the town council. The company plans to build a plant on the site of the old Norwich Bread & Biscuit Co. plant, which was torn down last year. The new plant will employ about 150 people.

ZBA Hearing Scheduled For 12th At Bank And Trust Branch

The Zoning Board of Appeals will hold a hearing at the Bank and Trust branch on October 12 to consider a request for a permit to build a new branch on the site of the old one. The new branch will be built on the site of the old one, which was torn down last year. The new branch will employ about 150 people.

Op-Ed

OFF THE CUFF

While the State of Connecticut is preparing for the General Assembly in June, an interesting and timely subject has been raised.

As the legislative session winds down, the question of education funding becomes more pressing. With the state budget in flux and the need for prompt action, it's crucial that we address this critical issue head-on.

In recent years, education has faced significant challenges, from budget cuts to rising costs. The state must find a way to ensure that all students have access to quality education.

The current education funding model is inadequate. We need a system that prioritizes the needs of each student and community, not just those of wealthy districts.

This is why I support proposals that increase funding for education, particularly in underserved areas. By doing so, we can ensure that every child has the opportunity to succeed.

In conclusion, as we prepare for the General Assembly, let's prioritize education funding. It's time to invest in our future and build a stronger, more equitable Connecticut.

Letter to the Editor:

Re: Southington High School

I am writing to express my excitement about the upcoming opening of Southington High School. As a resident of the town, I have watched the construction process with great interest.

The new school will undoubtedly provide a modern and stimulating environment for learning. I look forward to seeing the students enjoy the new facilities.

Can you provide more details about the new school, such as its size and capacity?

Response:

Dear [Citizen of Southington],

Thank you for your letter, expressing your excitement about the new Southington High School.

The new school is designed to accommodate an increased student population and will have a capacity of 1,200 students. It will feature state-of-the-art classrooms, labs, and facilities.

I appreciate your interest in the development of our community's educational institutions.

Sincerely,

Bowles Recalls GOP Part In Housing

By L. E. K. Conley

The Republican Party has been recalled to its responsibilities in housing. The party is asked to respond to the current housing crisis by taking an active role in addressing its causes.

The Republican platform included a commitment to affordable housing, yet recent developments have shown a lack of commitment. It's time for the party to step up and take a lead role in finding solutions.

The housing crisis affects all segments of society, and it's crucial that we work together to find long-term solutions. The Republican Party should take the initiative and lead the way in addressing this critical issue.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

Member, Republican Party

Bowles, the new chairman of the Connecticut Republican Party, is expected to address the housing crisis in his upcoming speeches.

School Gridders In First Practice For New Season

Football candidates at Southington High School began their first practice session this week, one of the toughest of the year. Dr. G. E. Knight has yet tackled the schedule calls for them to meet every large school afternoon.

Coach Dan Baker, who will work with an enlarged squad of 150 players, said that the first practice would run from 8 to 10 p.m. on Wednesday. Then it will be held in connection with the regular 3 p.m. practice.

The coach said the squad is in good spirits and that the boys are "really enthusiastic."

Among Southington Country Club players, who participated in recent Central Connecticut Zone Senior Foremost, were J. B. B. Seeliger, Bill Swidi, Bill Swidi, and Fred Keeler.

Man Overboard! But Not For Long As Local Fishermen Subdue Shark

In the calm waters surrounding our city, our local fishermen were able to subdue a shark, saving the day for all those who were on the boats.

The shark was seen swimming near the shore when the fishermen noticed it and decided to take action.

A small boat was deployed, and one of the fishermen, who was an expert in shark fishing, went in to chase the shark.

The chase was intense, but the fisherman managed to keep the shark close and eventually managed to subdue it using a special fishing technique.

The shark was then returned to the sea, and everyone on the boat breathed a sigh of relief.

Looking Backward
OCTOBER 9
It is the 21st birthday of the 21st century. The achievement of this milestone is a momentous occasion, symbolizing the passage of time and the growth of society.

TEN YEARS AGO
A group of 21-year-old boys was formed, the 21st Century Club, in order to promote community service and social change. The club aims to address pressing issues of the times, such as environmental conservation and social justice.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
A group of 21-year-old women was formed, the 21st Century Women’s Alliance, to advocate for gender equality and women’s rights. The alliance works to empower women and ensure their representation in all aspects of society.

BONDI OF B18 FORGED
On Speeding Charge
Robert Bondi, 21, of 112 Oak St., was charged with speeding in the town of Southington on Monday. Bondi was driving a 1987 Ford Mustang at a speed of 85 mph in a 50 mph zone. He was found guilty and was given a $100 fine.

School Opens September 9th
Motorists! Your vigilance should increase when school opens. Practice "Preventive Driving"... it may prevent injury or even the death of some school child.

REMEMBER—STOP WHEN THE SCHOOL BUS STOPS!
