Dear Parents:

Thank you so much for your patience and understanding during the last month. We hope to announce the new addition to our Children's Department family soon. In the meantime, we are pleased to announce the resumption of our Storytime classes!

In order to be sure that no one is left out we are having a special three-week session of Holiday Storytimes which are drop-in classes. No registration is required, but be sure to attend the class that is age-appropriate for your child.

Sincerely,
Cindy Wall, M.L.S.

BOOK a Play Date:

Coming Soon . . . the Children's Department will present a new program designed for infants ages three months to one year. Parents and babies attending our Playdate program will find our Storytime room stocked with age-appropriate toys and books to create a safe and nurturing learning environment for babies. Playdate also offers parents the opportunity to meet new people or even to spend time with old friends. We hope providing this forum will give parents and babies a place to learn and grow together.
